

Got a new beginning with a old skill set.

It has been a while since I took to the internet to write a piece. What a crazy year 2020 has been. I thought that if the economy had stayed hot Trump would have been a sure thing. But I guess God has different plans. Trump was elected president in 2016 because he was willing to step forward as a moderate alternative in a splintered party. He could have run as a democrat in 2016 he would have lost in the primary. Instead he ran as a republican because that party is very splintered. Miss Cortez and her group is going to splinter the democratic party much like what the tea party movement did to the republican party. They will take a stand on some issues I suspect in the next few years and we will see that group dissolve away. I suspect her movement will go the way of the tea party movement. Here today gone tomorrow.

You are thinking what does this have to do with Cosmology. It has everything to do with Cosmology. Miss Cortez and this congress is repeating history. The divide that exists at the top is uncomfortable to watch. People rise up in power and fall out of favor. People make enemies and friends. I suspect that with Mr. Biden in office that some of democratic seats in the Senate and house are going to flip the other way at the next election. I predict that Mr. Trump will run again in 2024 and will win the office of the President again. President Trump will be more effective in the next term. The Cosmos is in a state of Chaos all the time. The earth is part of the cosmos. You will find that Mr. Trump did more than anybody realized while he was in office. I have been told that there will be some major changes in the way things are being done. Our society is splintered today, it has been that way before. This is how generations stake their position.

The pandemic is nothing new. There have been pandemics before and there will be others to come in the future. Is anything going to change in the way we do things as a society. 10 years from now everything will have settled back down to a normal. The pendulum swings back and forth. What will happen is there will be less tolerance for those who decide not to vaccinate in the near future. Your next employer might require proof of vaccination before a start date is set. We tend to forget these things. That is why politicians can lie during campaigns. The public does not remember 6 months after the election what was promised on the election. The reason is simple, it is called life. If you have one you are running around in a world of Chaos dealing with things as they come up. What is new this time is Mr. Trump passed into law everybody will be vaccinated against Covid 19 free. Is this going to lead to other vaccinations getting the same treatment? This country is heading toward public healthcare for the masses. I believe that we might have gone too far down the slippery slope to recover from this. What I suspect will happen like in other first world nations in the world. You will have public healthcare for everyone. if you don't like it and you can, private healthcare is an option and has always been.

Some Predictions for 2021. Covid 19 will be brought under control! We will still see deaths from this terrible affliction every year. The herd will get their immunity. It is happening now. The fall out is a lot of people are not going to be with us at the end of this thing. That is ok, it is called life and life is chaos. Trump will be re-elected in 2024 to a second term in office. He will start an active campaign later in 2021. I see similarities between Trump and another president and that is Teddy Roosevelt. I saw it early in the presidency. You will see more people in high places suddenly resigning for no plausible reason. Kamala Harris will become our first female president and she will be ok but there will be a lot of division.
